Classical Master Class

The Classical Master Class is a seven-month course divided into five modules in which mentees are expected to solve problems related to complex and challenging cases presented by international experts. Each group is made up of 5-6 mentees of varying nationalities and a mentor, who facilitates communication and who monitors individual contribution.

CME Accredited

Deadline for application: March 31, 2015. More info: ehaweb.org

During the Classical Master Class the following topics will be discussed:

1. Clinical Hematology
2. Thrombosis & Hemostasis
3. Transfusion Medicine
4. Diagnostics
5. General skills

Focus

To develop professional behavior and long-term skill sets in Hematology in order to enhance professional practice and mobility.

What's in it for you?

1. Experience new, evidence-based and exciting ways of learning
2. Learn from international opinion leaders in hematology
3. Work in small groups of fellow hematology trainees and a mentor
4. Expand your international network
5. Immediate feedback on your contribution by the Case Author

When?

The Master Class will start with a kick-off meeting at the 20th Congress of EHA in Vienna. After an online introduction to the discussion platform you will start with the first case discussion in the first week of September 2015. The final case will be discussed approximately in March 2016. At the 21st Congress in Copenhagen you will receive your certificate of participation at the closing session.
